

Autism Awareness - More Strategies & Techniques for Teachers

Presented by Karina Barley, This course is FREE with Online Subscription

The most up to date information on how to teach students who have autism. This course will help you to create a classroom environment where everyone can learn.

Format: Online - Individual

Audience: Principals, Teachers, Teacher's Aides.

Description

Autism is a hugely topical area as the statistics for the prevalence of Autism rise with each year. This has many ramifications for the education system and teaching as parents now demand an equal, inclusive education for their children who have Autism.

Mainstream school & teachers are largely ill-equipped and have minimal Autism training. This course will provide you with vital information, strategies and techniques that you can take back to your school and classroom.

This is the second of two courses presented by Karen Barley on Autism Awareness. You can take this course as an extension of the original Autism course or as a stand alone. YOU DO NOT NEED to take the first course to do this one.

Additional notes about this format

This format has a combination of video, images, text and screencasting videos.

This course is a sequel to another course Autism Awareness and Strategies for the Educational Environment, although it is not a prerequisite. You can do each course independently. Plan your own PD journey.

Getting Online

Please note that this is an Online learning format and we use the platform Open Learning.
